PRELIMINARY NOTE

The instrument for the telephone survey of the German Survey on Volunteering 2019 was developed by the German Centre of Gerontology. This documentation contains the English version of the questions, the answer categories, the programming instructions and the filter paths (see Table I for the columns structure of the instrument). Questions are documented according to the labels of the variables in the Scientific Use Files (DOI: 10.5156/FWS.2019.M.002). The survey was conducted in six languages: German, Russian, Turkish, Polish, Arabic and English. This document reproduces the English instrument. Question and answers were translated for use in the telephone survey by infas Institute for Applied Social Sciences. Apart from the newly included questions, the survey 2019 uses the same wording as the survey 2014. Filters, interviewer instructions and all other information were translated at the DZA for documentation purposes. Interviews were conducted by bilingual interviewer.

On the next page, you can find an overview of the contents of the survey instrument.

Detailed information on the methodological approach can be found in the methodological report and the main report of the German Survey on Volunteering 2019. The Scientific Use File, the short description, the methodological report and further information are available at the Research Data Centre of the German Centre of Gerontology (www.fdz-dza.de).

The following wording of the questions and answers was used in the survey 2019. It's the same procedure as for the survey 2014. In contrast, the English version of the survey instrument 1999, 2004 and 2009 is documented as post-interview translation[1]. Some differences in the English wording of questions between wave four or five and the earlier waves are due to these different translation procedures and do not reflect changes in the instrument. Real changes in the instrument can be reproduced according to the German version[2] of the instrument throughout the waves.

		Our study is about participation in different areas of everyday life, such as sports, culture, health and leisure. It's also about your opinion on different everyday issues. This can vary greatly depending on your age and neighbourhood. That is why several thousand men and women across Germany have been interviewed on this subject every five years since 1999. The Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth needs up-to-date results in order to be able to shape policy in a targeted manner and to trace current developments. In order to gain a complete picture for Germany, we are interviewing people of different ages. These include, for example, school pupils, working and non-working people as well as retirees. It is very important for the validity of the study that we conduct an interview with all randomly selected persons.
		If you don't have time at the moment, then we can call you back at a time that suits you better.

		Our study looks at people's activities during their leisure time. It also asks their opinion on a variety of everyday issues. Such issues can vary greatly depending on your age and neighbourhood. That is why several thousand men and women from all over Germany have been interviewed on this subject every five years since 1999. The Federal Ministry for Family Affairs, Senior Citizens, Women and Youth needs up-to-date results in order to be able to shape policy appropriately and to trace current developments on the topic. In order to gain a complete picture for Germany, we are interviewing people of varying ages. Interviewees will include, for example, school pupils, working and non-working people, and retirees. This is a purely scientific study and we are not trying to sell you anything.
		We can send you more detailed information on the study by e-mail. You can then read the information at your leisure and decide if you wish to take part. We'll ring you back.

		008 (Reasons non-response)
		      = 8 (Target person refuses – too old)
		For our study, it is important that all randomly selected people take part. This applies regardless of the situation in which you find yourself today or how old you are. For the scientific study it is also important to find out what the situation of older people in Germany is, as you are a significant part of society.

		008 (Reasons non-response)
		      = 10 (Target person is not allowed to participate – is forbidden by an other person)
		In terms of the informative value of our scientific study, it is important that we speak to all randomly selected persons. Therefore we would like to speak directly to this person, whose birthday was last and is at least 14 years old. We can call you back at a later date if you like.
